April 23 Meeting and Concert

Hardman Studio Console

Twelve ODTOS members and four guests attended a Chapter meeting and exceptional concert by Dave Wickerham on April 23.

The event was held at the home of Jack and Mildred Hardman. The well attended concert, including other friends of the theatre organ, was performed on the Hardman Studio 4/38 Wurlitzer. The majority of this historic instrument was once installed in the home of Dick Simonton, the founder of ATOS.

It was great to meet new members Ray and Barbara Vanderbilt!

June 11 Open Console at the Byrd

Members of ODTOS, Free State Theatre Organ Society (FSTOS), and Metrolina Theatre Organ Society gathered at the Byrd Theatre on June 11 for an open console.

Thanks to Bob Gulledge and the Byrd Theatre for hosting this event!

Hands Across the Sea

In March, an e-mail arrived from Charles Brown who lives in the north west of England. Charles is an organist who plays the "Wurlitzer organ in Stockport Town Hall for the fortnightly dances." He and his daughter, Sarah, were planning to visit Richmond in June and asked if we could help arrange tours of our theatres.

On Thursday, June 16, Charles Hague had the pleasure to meet Charles and Sarah Brown. Our first stop was a tour of the Carpenter Theatre followed by a drive around Richmond to acquaint our new friends with some of the historic places in the "city of monuments."

On Saturday, Charles and Sarah attended the Byrd's family/children's show. Afterwards, Bob Gulledge provided a tour of the theatre capped off by Charles playing "the mighty Byrd Wurlitzer!"
